The true lover of gems, says the Transcript, prefers stones unset, so he can stir them about with the point of the jewelers' nippers or a pencil and enjoy their unalloyed sparkle and purity in every phase of light. These three perfectly colored diamonds, which were carried in the man's waistcoat pocket, wrapped in cotton, were valued at several thousand dollars, but one day Cupid appeared, and then one of the precious trio went into a blazing engagement ring, and the remaining two eventually found themselves turned into "jew elry." Such is the power of love.

An unusual application was lately made to the United States district court at Pittsburgh. William Dowling, of Titusville, asked permission to withdraw his former petition in bankruptey, his wife having paid his debts in full. One of the receipts submitted was unique, inasmuch as it is dated back to Genesis. It reads as follows: "Received of William Dowling, by hand of Ann Dowling, the sum of $700, in full settlement of all claims from the beginning of the world to and including the date of this
